

Accessing Everyday Math From your Google Account

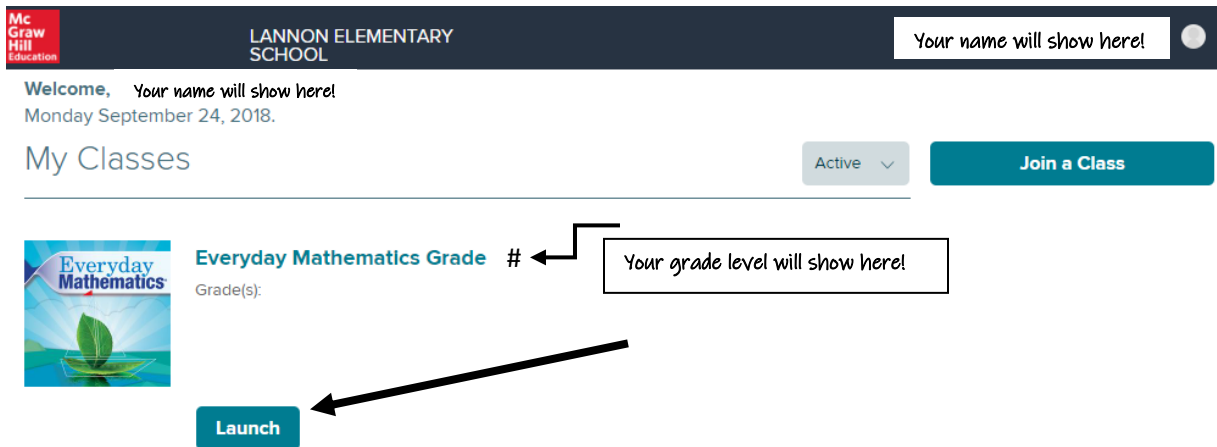

Step 1 – Log onto your Google Account using your student e-mail and password.

Don't forget to add @hamiltonstudents.org

Step 2 – Open up your Google drive and click on the “waffle.” Scroll to the bottom and click “more.” After doing this, the McGraw Hill Education Connected App should appear. (see below)

Step 3 – Click the Launch button to access your Student Learning Center.

Step 4 – Now you will see the landing page. This page always shows today's lesson.

Lesson Activities:

Click the biggest tile to get to the digital activities for today's lesson.

Reference Book:

Opens the eBook of the Reference Book, a great tool for homework help.

eToolkit:

The eToolkit contains virtual versions of math manipulatives.

Tutorial Videos:

Links to a list of videos that help explain important math concepts.

EM Games Online:

Click here to play games online like the ones you play at school.

Favorites:

Click here to see the activities you have marked as favorites.

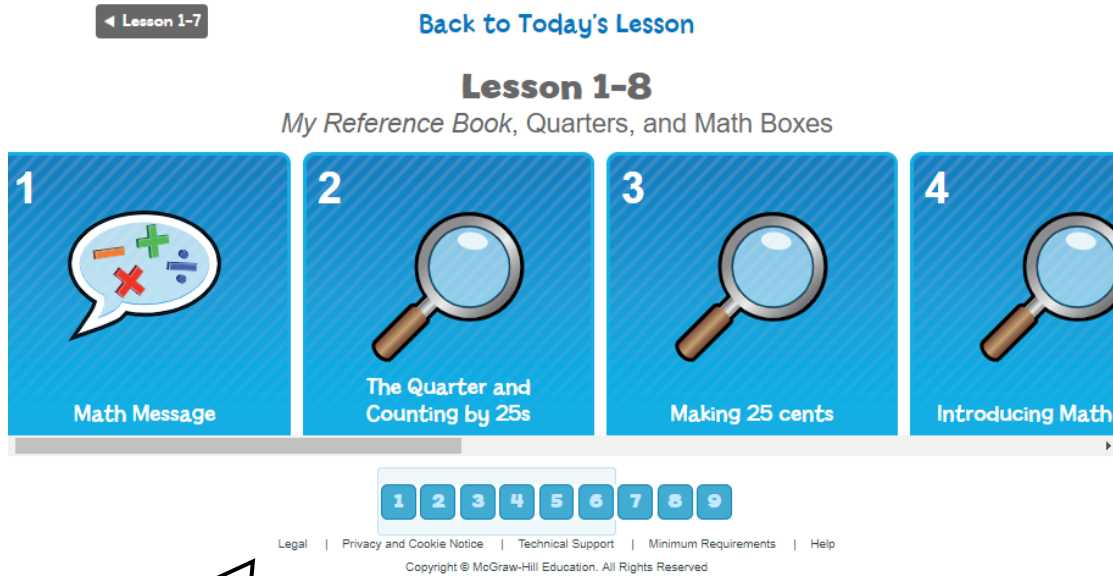

EM at Home:

Links to resources for families. Includes PDFs of Home Links, Family Letters, a Literature List, Do-Anytime Activities, and more.

Geometer's Sketchpad Activities:

Links to a list of interactive activities to explore math concepts.

Step 5 – If you clicked on “Go to Lesson” on the landing page, you will access the Lesson Activities page. Each numbered tile is an activity that is available for you to complete digitally.

Activity Tiles:

You can click on an activity tile to complete it using a digital device. If you did not complete the digital activity at school, you could complete the digital activity at home.

Parent Note: Teachers may choose not to complete the activity digitally and instead use paper and pencil.

Reminder: You will need to use the scroll bar to view and access all activity tiles for that lesson.

Home Link:

Parent Note: Some lessons have activities to complete at home. Your student's teacher may assign homework to be completed digitally using the Student Learning Center.

If so, your student needs to click on the Home Link tile to launch and complete the activity.
